President's Corner...

It is officially fall, but I don't think the weather man got the message. It is still pretty warm out, but trying to be optimistic, it could be warmer. It certainly has been before. I absolutely love this time of year! I have to say it is truly my favorite. I love the colors of fall and the changing of the leaves. I love the different holiday sights, smells, and especially the tastes. I absolutely LIVE for this time of year to get a pumpkin pie blizzard!

For those of you who know me well, you know I love to cook. I love just about anything pumpkin, so I tend to try out new recipes in preparation for our family Thanksgiving feast. If any of you have some recipes you would like to share, I would love to have them. I would also be happy to share a few of our family favorites as well. I think our family favorite as far as pumpkin recipes go, is a Pumpkin Pecan Cobbler topped with homemade vanilla ice cream. YUUUUMMY!!

But wait I skipped right over Halloween. I always enjoy dressing up with my family and having some fun. This year we are going to be The Incredibles, (Disney characters of course). If you haven't seen this Disney movie yet, you are really missing out. If you have ever had children of your own, this movie really encompasses the entire parenting experience. I can assure you, you won't stop laughing the whole time you are watching it. I'm not sure what we will be dressing as for the annual Silver Center Halloween Friday Night dance though. That is something I always enjoy as well. It is so much fun to see everyone all dressed up in costume. Our attendees have the most creative and fun ideas and we sure love to hand out prizes for them. Make plans to come join us for this great fun.

So, now let's continue talking about Thanksgiving. Have you made plans yet? We usually host our families at our house. I would much rather cook and clean up than drive a long way and not be able to take a nap when my belly is full. We usually have the traditional Thanksgiving meal with the exception of a fried turkey instead of roasted. I make traditional stuffing, yeast rolls, green bean casserole, corn casserole, sweet potato casserole, cranberry relish, pumpkin pie, pecan pie, and of course whatever other desserts my family requests. Nothing from a can, all home made with love. Just the way my grandma used to do it. I love that time with my family and continuing that tradition.

I know the next appropriate topic would be Christmas, but I'm just not ready for that yet. Whew, no way. I haven't even begun and it will be here before we know it. So instead I will choose to say another reason why I love fall so much is that it cools off SOME. LOL.

As we close out our fiscal year, this may or may not be my last President's Letter. Our board of directors will elect new officers this month. So if it is to be my final letter, I need to say how much I have enjoyed this past year. It has been a year of incredible journeys. The center has had some wonderful and amazing growth and it would not have happened without the leadership of our beloved Executive Director Glenda Layton, and her amazing staff. They have made the center a more inviting, and warmer place for our community and I could not be more proud of each and every one of them. They deserve way more than they get and are given credit for. They have made my job easy and I am so grateful. There isn't a single person who could understand the amount of time, blood, sweat, and tears they put into this place. They are some of the strongest and most beautiful hearted people I know. And they do it for you from their hearts. Thank you Silver Center staff, members, volunteers, and patrons. I am honored to have had the opportunity to serve you as your President and will continue to serve you in whatever capacity is asked of me going forward. God bless you all.

Sincerely,
Kay Lynn Hawkins
President

Hello From the Front Office!

What a great month September was for us! If you haven't heard, we were honored to be named The Small Business of the year for 2018! That is a Business Excellence Award chosen by a committee of businesses who belong to the Seguin Area Chamber of Commerce. It was wonderful to know that the community is taking notice of the positive changes at the Silver Center. I'd like to thank our absolutely awesome staff and many volunteers for everything you do to make the Silver Center the vibrant hub that it is. THANK YOU ALL!

Our September Opry was outstanding again with stars Almost Patsy Cline, Freddy Cruz & Bill Davis performing to a full house. Please make plans to join us on Oct 18th for Kirk Herbold & Tom Teboe! If you don't already have your tickets for the ALMOST PATSY CLINE BENEFIT DANCE on Oct 27th, please get them NOW! It will be a full house! Presale tickets are $20 and they will be $25 at the door that evening.

By the time this newsletter hits your house the 25th Anniversary Gala will be in the memory books. It is with incredible joy that I am able to say being here to lead the Center into the next chapter is a huge honor for me. I love this place and the members who fill my days with joy (and sometimes excitement).

If you haven't been by the office lately, please stop in and say hi!

God Bless you all!

MAMA'S BIBLE

Four brothers left home for college and they became successful doctors and lawyers. One evening, the chatted after having dinner together. They discussed the 95th birthday gifts they were able to give to their elderly other who lived in Florida.

The First said, "You know I had a big house built for Mama."

The second said, "And I had a large theater built in the house."

The third said, "And I had my Mercedes dealer deliver an SL-600 to her!"

The fourth said, "You know how mama loved reading the Bible, and you know she can't read anymore because she can't see very well. I met this preacher who told me about a parrot who could recite the entire Bible. It took 10 preachers almost 8 years to teach him. I had to pledge to contribute $50,000 every year for 5 years to the church, but it's worth it! Mama only has to name the chapter and verse, and the parrot will recite it.

The other brothers were impressed. After the celebration Mama sent out her "Thank you" notes.

She wrote, "Milton, the house you built is so huge that I only live in one room, but I have to clean the whole house. Thanks anyway."

"Marvin, I am too old to travel. I stay at home all of the time. I even have my groceries delivered, so I never use the Mercedes. The thought was good. Thank you."

"Michael, you gave me an expensive theater with dolby sound. It can hold 50 people, but all of my friends are dead. I've lost my hearing and I'm nearly blind. I'll never use it, but thanks for the nice gesture."

"Dearest Melvin, You were the only son to have the good sense to give a little thought to your gift. The chicken was delicious. Thank you so much, Love Mama."

WHAT'S IT WORTH

Right after the marriage ceremony, the groom approached the preacher and asked him what he owed him. The preacher smiled and said, "Oh pay me whatever you think the marriage is worth." The young man reached into his pocket and handed the preacher a dollar bill. The preacher thanked him and the young man continued to stand there as if expecting something else. After an awkward pause, the preacher asked, "Was there something else?" The groom replied, "I was waiting for my change."

FEELINGS

Two young ladies were talking when one turned to her friend and said, "I hear you have broken your engagement to John because your feelings toward him aren't the same anymore! Are you going to return his ring?" "Oh no! My feelings toward the ring are the same as ever."

PAY FOR IT

A lady had her car windows tinted. A year later she still had not made an effort to pay for it. When the agent came to get his money, she replied, "You told me it would pay for itself in one year!"

NAPS

This evening I asked my friend if he had taken a nap today. He replied, "I don't even know – If I did, I slept right through it."

FLIES

Louise came home and found Henry stalking around the house with a fly swatter in his hand. "Killed any yet?", she asked. "Yep." Henry answered. "Two males and a female." "How could you tell the difference?", she asked. "Well," said Henry, "Two were on a beer can and one was on the telephone."

LOVE

Bill lived in an apartment complex. He fell in love with Kate. Then he met Edith who was even more beautiful. The moral of this story is – You can't have your Kate and Edith, too!

On Tuesday, September 19th, the Silver Center was honored to be named Small Business of the Year for Business Excellence. It has been a long time coming and we are very excited to have this award. Please stop by and see it! It is predominately displayed on our Baby Grand in the Lobby. I want to thank our many volunteers and my outstanding staff. Without you, this couldn't have happened.

A Revealing Look at Mammograms

The very best defense against breast cancer is early detection and diagnosis. And while breast cancer is the most common cancer in women, if it's found early enough you have a greater chance of an accurate diagnosis and effective treatment plan. That's why mammograms are so important.

If a cancerous tumor is still too tiny for you or your doctor to feel, but it's detectable by a mammogram, then treatment is most likely to be successful. Additionally, a tumor at an early stage is less likely to require aggressive treatments (such as a mastectomy to remove the entire breast, or chemotherapy).

For those reasons, it's crucial not to fall behind on a breast cancer screening. Here's the timetable the American Cancer Society (ACS) advises for most women. If you are:

40 to 44 years old: You should talk to your doctor about starting yearly mammograms now. Screening at this age is optional, depending on your preference and medical history.

45 to 54 years old: The risk of breast cancer increases with age, that's why it's important for all menopausal women to get a mammogram every year.

55 and older: You can switch to getting a mammogram every other year or continue with yearly screenings. Again, talk with your doctor about what's best for you.

When you go for your mammogram, the radiologist who reads your mammogram will look for possible signs of cancer, such as a lump or a mass. Masses can be many things, including benign (non-cancerous), or fluid-filled sacs called cysts, which do not require treatment. The radiologist will also look for calcifications, which are calcium deposits within the breast tissue.

If it's time for you to get your mammogram, Guadalupe Regional Medical Center offers the latest in mammogram technology. Our wide-angled 3D breast tomosynthesis, or 3D Mammography, offers improved ability to accurately diagnose breast cancer and reduce false positives. 3D mammograms also make it more likely to find small tumors that may have remained hidden on a conventional mammogram. Additionally, they provide clearer images of abnormalities in dense breasts.

During a 3-D mammogram, a woman's breast is compressed, just as it is for a standard mammogram. An x-ray machine moves over the breast, taking multiple images. Special computer software then creates a detailed 3-D image of the breast.

Think for a moment: When was the last time you got a mammogram? Are you due for another one? Talk to your Primary Care Physician about scheduling your next mammogram with GRMC.
